San Francisco, CA

I am a professional photographer with more than fifteen years of freelance experience in the areas of marketing, events and fashion photography. My images have been featured in campaigns for a wide array of industries, including fashion, food, design and entertainment. I have the proven ability to work with all personality types to produce strong, dynamic images.

As a photographer, I have been blessed with a good eye and a painter's love of composition. I was fortunate to work as an apprentice with incredibly talented mentors who taught me through a hands-on approach. Working with both architectural photographers and an outstanding portrait photographer, I learned about the subtleties of lighting, the use of which has become one of the hallmarks of my work. I have a reputation for building a natural rapport with my clients and for making them feel completely at ease in front of the camera. The result is photographic imagery which truly captures the essence of the subject's personality.

My work has appeared in numerous publications, including The Wall Street Journal, California Homes, 7X7 Magazine, SF Chronicle, Design Journal, and Hero Magazine. I have provided marketing photos for such clients as Wells Fargo, Hermegeno Designs, Lucy Delgado Designs, Frisee Restaurant, and the Carneros Wine Alliance.
