How it works....

Having your picture taken can be an intimidating process, but we work to create an environment that is both comfortable and positive, where clients can really relax and enjoy the experience. Our goal is to capture people in their best light: looking like them. We focus on delivering clean, crisp images with the look that each client wants to achieve. We will work together to create pictures that will really represent you well. Clients are carefully guided through the process of the shoot, and are advised on a variety of details...everything from wardrobe to body language. After the shoot things like online proofing and retouching are included ,and assistance with image selection is available.
